Our structure

We are a global company which mainly specializes steel business as well as trading of various kinds of metals and alloys, food products, petroleum and chemicals, lumber, and machinery. We have subsidiaries and offices in several countries.

Our policies in relation to slavery and human trafficking

We are committed to ensuring that there is no modern slavery or human trafficking in our supply chains or in any part of our business. In accordance with our corporate philosophy, we have established the "Corporate Ethical Standards" and the "Rules of Ethical Business Conduct" to ensure high corporate ethics through daily work. We have established the "Compliance Manual" for consistent penetration of corporate ethics and all the officers and employees shall observe the manual. It regulates that "Pay attention to human rights and eliminate wrongful discrimination, abuse and harassment, etc."

Our training

We provided the new employees training and other trainings about modern slavery and human trafficking to ensure a high level of understanding of the risks of it in our supply chains and our business.

Our whistleblowing system

We have established compliance consultation desks in and out of the office. We encourage all the officers and employees to report in good faith any issues or concerns about potential violation of human rights, legal or regulatory requirements. Our whistleblowing procedure is designed to make it easy for workers to make disclosures, without fear of retaliation.
